A NEW MOVIE.
A NEW IDEA.
JACK DEMPSEY'S HAND.
HAS SHE BEEN TAGGLED?

—By Arthur Brisbane—

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., Jan. 24.—Here in the heart of movie land, a new picture is as important as the opening of parliament by King George.

"Trader Horn" was shown for the first time at the Chinese theater in Hollywood last night. Thousands that could not get in lined the streets on both sides, waiting to see the movie stars "appear in person" to attend the opening.

Fiercely blazing lights made it easy to photograph the super-beings as they arrived, looking very beautiful and unconscious of the fact that they were observed, while high school boys and girls rushed at begging for autographs.

Ten dollars is a moderate price for a seat at such a performance. You cannot imagine the crowd's eagerness unless you happened to see the waiting New York thousands when Consuelo Vanderbilt married the Duke of Marlborough in a Fifth avenue church.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer spent $1,300,000 making the picture in Africa, and you ought to see and hear the four lions fighting the rhinoceroses shot down, the big ape slain by the leopard. Above all you must see the 16-year-old white girl who rules the savage cannibals with a lash in her hand, and her eyes wide open. She really is a wonder, blond, skin snow white not the slightest sign of tan, although she has lived under Africa's tropical sun since she was a baby, walking in her bare feet, wearing nothing but her own golden hair and a little girdle of fur around the waist.

She falls in love with a young white gentleman after having lashed his face without making him wince.

Then she suddenly becomes feminine and he has to carry her in his arms, through miles and miles of jungle and wild animals. Women are never what you expect them to be.

Much of the most important news of many days comes from the scientific laboratory maintained by the General Electric Co., of which Owen D. Young and Gerald Swope are the responsible heads.

The new device, a tyatron, makes it possible to send power to distant points.

PLAN CHARITY BALL TO RAISE DROUGHT FUNDS

Salem Red Cross Executives Will Sponsor Benefit Event

TICKETS ON SALE THIS AFTERNOON

Event To Be Staged Next Friday Night At Elks' Home

A charity ball for the benefit of the drought relief campaign sponsored by the American Red Cross, was announced today by Salem chapter officials.

Will Use Lodge Home

This will be held next Friday night at the Elks home, the lodge having donated the use of the home for this event. Ray Bartholomew's orchestra also will donate its services, so that no expense will be incurred in carrying out this benefit.

Committees headed by Ed. S. Dawson and Miss Myra Erwin arranged at once to place tickets on sale this afternoon. Other committees will be announced the first of the week, one of which will arrange to have refreshments for sale during the dance.

Salem's Quota $1,800

Salem's quota of the national relief fund is $1,800, and already some contributions have been forwarded to Red Cross officials or left at the three banks. Those who contribute are requested to make out their checks to the American Red Cross, instead of in the name of individuals.

Collections in three banks, the First National, Farmers National and Citizens Savings, to date amount to $151.

LIST MUSICAL FETE NUMBERS

Sponsors Of Presbyterian Church Concert Complete Program

Eleanor Tolerton, soprano; Ellen Mitchell Lee, pianist; and John L. Hundertmark, violinist, will appear in solo numbers at the benefit concert at 8 p. m. Friday, Jan. 30, at the Presbyterian church.

The program for the concert was announced today.

Jean Olnhausen, Elizabeth Snyder, Camille Hoperich and Ralph Drinkhouse compose the violin ensemble.

Atty. McCarthy is the reader, and the accompanists for the piano organ and piano are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hundertmark.

John W. Hundertmark gives the opening number on the program, piano organ prelude, selected.

Here is the program: Piano solo, "Third Ballet—The Bird," (Chopin) Ellen Mitchell Lee; violin ensemble, "Liebesfreud" (Kreisler) arranged by J. L. Hundertmark and "Menuet," (Dussek).

Vocal solos, "Let All My Life Be Music," (Spross) and "A Rhapsody," (C. Warford) Miss Tolerton.

Instrumental Selections.
Violin solos, "Tambourin Chinois" (Kreisler) Jean Olnhausen; "Le Carnaval De Venise," (Dancia) Elizabeth Snyder; "Gypsy Dance," (A. Wier) Camille Hoperich; "The Humming Bird," (Drdla) Ralph Drinkhouse.

Piano solos, "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2," (Liszt) and Prelude in G, (Chopin) Ellen Mitchell Lee; violin ensemble, "In China," composed by J. L. Hundertmark.

Musical reading, "The Day Is Done," (Longfellow) Atty. McCarthy, with music composed by J. L. Hundertmark; violin solo, "Hungarian Idyl," (Ker-Bela) J. L. Hundertmark; grand ensemble, "Song of Love" (Shubert) by entire personnel; song, "America."

VETERANS SPEAK AT SALEM EVENT

Ex-Servicemen Hear Discussions On How to Secure Compensation; Officials At Meeting

R. K. Christenberry of Cleveland, commander of the Cuyahoga county Veterans of Foreign War council, and W. C. Burbank of Warren, state V. F. W. commander, discussed compensation payment at a meeting of Salem ex-service men held at the Memorial building Friday night.

The meeting, sponsored by the Allen K. Reynolds post No. 892, V. W. W. was attended by 100 war veterans.

Charles G. Hoffman, Youngstown, junior vice-commander of the Ohio state V. F. W. post; Carl Sanderson, Sebring, commander of the Disabled American Veterans organization there, and R. D. Blackburn, Alliance V. F. W. post commander, also gave short talks.

Harry G. Green, well known Salem veteran, was chairman, introducing the speakers and visiting officials.

Tax Chief And Her Accuser

While Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge (left), United States collector of internal revenue for the Chicago district, insists she was the innocent victim of a card sharps' plot in a Springfield, Ill., hotel, Edward R. Litsinger (right), member of the Cook county (Illinois) Board of Review and prominent Chicago lawyer and business man, charges he was robbed of $50,000 in a scheme engineered by Mrs. Blackledge.

LEAVES CRADLE FOR JAIL AFTER RAIDING PARTY

(By Associated Press)
BUTLER, PA., Jan. 24.—The policemen were just crazy to see the baby and that's why Mack Ambroski is in the lock-up.

Bent on raiding the Ambroski home because somebody charged Mr. Ambroski was selling whiskey, the officers rushed to the house, but they stopped short at the door when they saw Mack carefully moving a baby carriage back and forth.

"Ain't that a pitcher!" whispered one of the officers as they tip-toed in. Mack whistled low. The officers gathered around.

One could not restrain himself. "Kitchy, kitchy," he giggled as he gently pulled the cover down.

Bottles—bottles filled with liquor, that's what they saw, the report says.

Ambroski and the bottles were hustled off to the police station.

PRISONERS FLEE ALABAMA BLAZE

March To Safety When Flames Hit State Building

(By Associated Press)
WETUMPKA, ALA., Jan. 24.—While fire consumed the 92-year-old main building and left wing of the institution, 235 women and 327 men prisoners marched rapidly from the state prison here early today without loss of life or injury.

The flames were discovered at midnight on the third floor of the main building, housing a garment factory, and had gained headway before the Wetumpka and Montgomery fire departments could get sufficient water pressure to fight the blaze.

When the alarm was sounded in the prison, the fire was in the main building. All prisoners were aroused and directed into the yard, where they huddled under guard, while the flames roared through the old building.

The north wing, housing the women's cell blocks and the main building both burned, but after more than two hours, the flames were checked and the south wing in which youthful male prisoners were confined was saved.

Farmers' Program Delegate Is Named

Goshen grange at a meeting Friday evening at the hall, northwest of Salem, voted to send its lecturer, Ernest Kampfer, to the lecturers' conference in connection with the Farmers' Week program at Columbus, the first of February.

Announcement was made that Mahoning county Pomona grange, will meet in the Beloit High school Feb. 28, with Smith grange host.

The program was composed of readings by Eugene Rhodes and Albert Heiner and a talk by C. D. Carr, Ernest Kampfer was in charge of a stunt.

Each officer is asked to have part on the program at a meeting in two weeks.

Price Is Raised On Dog Licenses

The price goes up on dog licenses. County Dog Warden C. Donahay today announced that owners of dogs who have failed to procure licenses now will be compelled to pay an additional dollar, the time limit having expired.

Out of the 5,600 registrations for 1930, a few more than 3,600 have obtained licenses for the current year.

300 GATHER AT MASONIC EVENT

Program Of Entertainment, Dance Features Party Friday: Nine Salem Men At Alliance

More than 300 Masons, wives and friends attended the annual party held at the Masonic temple here Friday night.

A program of entertainment, including vocal and instrumental musical numbers, readings and novelty dance acts was featured. Dancing with Eddie Schuck's orchestra of Salem followed the entertainment.

Nine Salem Masons attended the annual inspection of the Alliance chapter of the Royal Arch Masons in Alliance last night.

ACTION LOOMS ON SELLING OF FRUIT JUICES

Grape Concentrate Distribution Is Flayed In Liquor Report

DRY EXECUTIVES MAINTAIN SILENCE

Government Officers Consider Future Federal Moves

By JOHN F. CHESTER
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Pushed forward by the suggestions of the Wickham report, the question of possible government action with the sale of grape concentrates which are easily converted into wine, again today was before government officials.

The grape concentrate sales were flayed in law enforcement commission's report with the assertion they are conducted "on a large scale with federal aid." A suggestion was made for an amendment of the Volstead act to curb this activity.

Encongruous Situation

"Why it should be penal to make wine commercially for use in homes and not penal to make in huge quantities the material for wine making and set up an elaborate selling campaign for disposing of them," the report asserted, "is not easily apparent."

Nevertheless, there appeared little possibility today of immediate, concerted federal action in this direction. Both prohibition chiefs and Atty. Gen. Mitchell maintained the strict silence in connection with grape concentrate matters that had been their policy in recent months.

Several weeks ago, the attorney general indicated the justice department might make a statement to clarify the government's stand. This has not yet been done. Prohibition Director Woodcock likewise has maintained silence, saying only that if sales campaigns show "intent" to violate the prohibition law they will be acted against.

Not Woodcock's Orders

In connection with recent arrests of grape concentrate salesmen, Woodcock announced this had been done entirely on the initiative of local dry agents and not upon orders from Washington. A loan of many millions of dollars has been made by the farm board to California grape concentrate interests represented by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition.

2 FOUND GUILTY ON THEFT COUNT; JURY'S VERDICT

James Bunfield and Lewis Swickard Tried In Common Pleas

LISBON, Jan. 24.—James Bunfield of St. Clair township and Lewis Swickard of East Liverpool have been found guilty by a jury in common pleas court No. 1 on an indictment charging them with burglary and larceny of goods of the value of $25.

A motion for a new trial will not be filed by Attorneys S. W. Crawford of East Liverpool and Robert E. Hall of Lisbon, it was announced after the verdict was read. The two men were charged with the burglary and larceny of goods from the home of Mrs. May Coulombs of St. Clair township.

Sentenced to Pen

George Beverly, aged 40 years, of East Liverpool, who was indicted on two counts for receiving and concealing stolen property, changed his plea from not guilty to that of guilty, and has been sentenced to serve from one to seven years in the Ohio penitentiary.

W. A. O'Grady, counsel for the defendant, told the court his client did not know the stolen goods were in his home.

Clyde Moore, Grace Moore, Gus Bonfert and Mildred Bonfert, all of Columbiana, indicted for residing an officer, will go to trial before Judge W. F. Lones Monday afternoon.

Moore has demurred to a single indictment charging him with resisting an officer, E. L. Mitchell, of Columbiana.

Will Face Sanity Jury

A jury will determine the sanity of Norman Braseker, Monday morning. He was indicted for the theft of 38 head of poultry from William Fessler. The sanity of the defendant has been questioned by Prosecuting Attorney John E. Baucknecht.

Damages Are Asked By Administrator

LISBON, Jan. 24.—Suit for $25,000 damages has been filed in common pleas court by John Weikart of Columbiana, and administrator of the estate of Lloyd C. Weikart, against Paul C. Heise of Wooster and Selma Fites of Salem.

The suit is based upon an automobile wreck on 11 miles south of Wooster Aug. 29, last, and which resulted in the death of Lloyd C. Weikart.

Voltrath Is Buried

BUCKYRUS, Jan. 24.—Full military honors were accorded Brigadier General Edward Voltrath, 73, who was buried here yesterday. He died Wednesday.

General Voltrath was a veteran of the Spanish and World wars, and had been a practicing attorney for many years.

Millionaire Finds His Son

Christian G. Chicago, millionaire, known as "Who's Who" as Dep. High Commissioner of P. A., is shown reunited with his son, Peter, aged 8, who had been in the hands of kidnapers for three years. The boy was found by chance, ending a frantic international search for him.

Through the brother of Narinus De Zayas, who is alleged to have abducted the boy, it was discovered that Peter was in the care of a Dutchess county, New York farmer. Detectives prevented the boy's removal to Canada and returned him to his father.

CAPTIVE LION KILLED AFTER SLAYING CHILD

(By Associated Press)
SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Jan. 24.—A captive Mexican lion slew Viola Friesen, 2 years old, at her home here last night, betraying a confidence built up in hours of play. He was killed for the treachery.

The child chose to visit the lion, staked out in the yard at the home, while her sister Sarah, 15, and a brother, Harry, 16, took clothes from a line.

The animal, owned by C. Coley, operator of a jungle show in winter quarters here, sprang as she approached. The other children were beat him from him.

Attracted by the lion's roar, Viola, her jagular vein severed, died in a hospital. Coley was booked on a charge of negligent homicide.

SHERIFF KILLED; THREE ARE HELD

Alleged Chicken Thieves, Awed By Shooting, Surrender

(By Associated Press)
BUCKYRUS, O., Jan. 24.—Shot down as he attempted to arrest three negro brothers on a chicken stealing charge, Sheriff George Davenport, 39, of Crawford county, died early today.

His alleged assailants were being held in the county jail here.

The sheriff and two deputies Arthur Stucker and Otto Steiger, had gone to a house near Crestline to arrest the trio last night. They cornered their men in an upstairs room.

Davenport shouted for them to surrender, but they refused. As the sheriff started to ascend the steps, one of the brothers fired a shotgun. The bullet struck Davenport in the pit of the stomach and he died a few hours later.

Evidently awed by the shooting, the alleged thieves surrendered without further trouble and were brought to the county jail here where authorities prepared to file charges.

Stucker asserted Davenport was shot without warning.

Sheriff Davenport was the first Republican to be elected to that office in Crawford county.

REVIVAL MEETS TO END SUNDAY

Rev. Charles Stalker Preaches At Friends Church; Delegations From Nearby Towns Attend

Members of the Friends churches in Alliance, Beloit and Damascus attended the revival service at the First Friends church Friday evening.

The two-week series of meetings will close Sunday night. Rev. Charles Stalker of Columbus, the evangelist, admonishes his auditors live a holy life and stated that it took more courage for some people to come to a holiness altar than to die in no man's land." He emphasized the need of obedience to the Holy Ghost.

He pointed out that nothing short of a holy life is acceptable with God and that sin in the life will lead to eternal punishment.

Rev. Stalker will speak tonight at 7:30 and at the Sunday services. He announced last night that he had a special message for the church on Sunday morning.

Settle Two Suits

LISBON, Jan. 24.—Two damage actions filed in June 1928 by Theodore Snyder and Margaret Snyder against T. L. Grady have been settled out of court, and at the costs of the defendant. Snyder sued Grady for $5,300 damages as a result of an automobile accident.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOLLOWS MEET OF DIRECTORS

Will Fight Decision Enjoining Proposed Merger

NO DISCUSSION IS MADE OF MOVE

Statement Also Made By Eugene Grace, Bethlehem Chief

(By Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 24.—Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. officials announced at a directors' meeting today that they would appeal the recent court decision enjoining the company's proposed merger with the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

The news of the decision was given out by Walter Meub, secretary-treasurer of Youngstown Sheet & Tube, who emerged from the meeting long enough to say: "We're going to appeal. That's all we are giving out." Meub at once returned to the meeting without answering reporters' questions.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Announcement that an appeal would be made in the Bethlehem-Youngstown Sheet & Tube merger case was made here today by Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel Corp. Mr. Grace's brief statement was confined to the bare announcement of intention to appeal from Judge Jenkins' decision.

DAISY DE BOE FOUND GUILTY

Years Of Wrangling Among Jury Members Brings Verdict

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24.—Convicted by the compromise verdict of an exasperated jury which for hours has been deadlocked eight to four acquittal, Daisy De Boe languished in jail today. She was charged with theft from her former employer, Clara Bow of the films.

After more than 48 hours of bitter wrangling the jury of seven men and five women finally brought in a verdict yesterday holding Daisy guilty of one of the 35 counts of grand theft with which she was charged and recommending mercy.

"Oh, my God!" Daisy cried when the verdict was heard. "But I'm not guilty. If they were going to make me guilty of one count I was guilty of all. How could they do it?"

There was little or no exultation over the verdict in the Bow household, where the red haired actress is ill with a cold.

"For Daisy's sake, I hope the court will be lenient," said Clara, who accused Miss De Boe of stealing $15,045.35.

"She was the best friend I had in the world."

The court set next Monday for passing of sentence. Conviction on the one count carries a penalty of one to ten years in San Quentin penitentiary.

William To Speak At Gridiron Event

WILMINGTON, Jan. 24.—Sam William, head football coach at Ohio State university, will be the principal speaker at the Rotary club gridiron banquet here Monday night.

Wilmington college and high school football lettermen and their coaches, E. J. Steele and Amos Smith, will be honor guests at the banquet.

Food Brings Joy

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Jan. 24.—Just come from England, Ark., the town you read about, where the people wanted food.

It seemed mighty peaceful and happy now. Went to the school there, where the children were being fed at lunch time all they wanted of fine vegetable soup, cooked in a big vat, that had been a whisky still, and presented to the cause by a patriotic moonshiner.

This is the very heart of the most needy section in America, and yet it's the most fertile land you ever saw. But the country people absolutely have nothing.

The Red Cross as usual are doing great work. In just these two counties I visited today, they are feeding 8,000 families, with an average of six to the family.

You don't know what hard times are till you go into some of these houses. Weather is with 'em now; but if it turns cold there will be a lot of suffering.

This isn't a plea, it's just a report. But it's the worst need I ever saw.

Will Rogers

APPEAL AND RESPONSE

Every newspaper reader and radio listener knows that the American Red Cross is making a drive to raise $10,000,000 for relief of drought sufferers in the United States. Every conceivable means of disseminating the information has been employed.

Thus far, in other words, the Red Cross has done its job well. It cannot raise money without employing the means at hand to appraise the country of its needs, and without guiding the response it expects will be made. All that has been done.

Now, the onus is shifted to the public. It rests most heavily on the shoulders of the 5,000,000-odd members of the Red Cross; the remainder of the burden is distributed equally among every wage earner and property holder who possesses the means to give. The Red Cross is but a name; its power is derived from the loyal support of the millions who never yet have failed to heed to its requests.

In a recent broadcast of the organization's wants Mrs. August Belmont described the responses made in previous crises. Always the goal established has been attained and surpassed, sometimes by one million, often by two millions and, occasionally, by as many millions as asked. It is the quality of generous giving that President Hoover assumed still existed when he first opposed the cold relief from taxation money that congress was prepared to give. While Americans have tender hearts relief for suffering will not have to come from funds of the federal government.

With the public, then, rests the vindication of a strong relief in its generosity. The appeal has been made. Your Red Cross chapter has undertaken its share of the task. Have you done your part yet?

END OF THE WEEK

Next December when the outstanding events of the year are tabulated the Wicksham commission reports published last Tuesday, will be right up there near the top. Not because it settled anything, not even because it said anything new, but because it started a red-hot discussion that may clarify the relation of the two major parties to prohibition. Such questions as: Is Mr. Hoover bone-dry or moist and how will the prohibition issue affect 1932 national platforms and so forth may be answered once and for all.

Continuing with prohibition, and it's the fashionable topic of the week, L. L. Faris of Lynchburg is Ohio's new prohibition director. Like his predecessor, Rupert R. Beetham of Cadiz, Director Faris comes from a dry stronghold. Both Harrison and Highland counties have been without saloons for years and years. But Cadiz and Lynchburg aren't Cleveland, Toledo, Dayton, Akron, Youngstown and Columbus, as events have proved to Mr. Beetham.

It may have been eggs, or it may have been grapefruit that three callow youths threw at Rudy Valle in Boston the other night. It doesn't much matter, in fact it is pleasing to learn, however, that America's most envied young man ignored the rudeness and refused to press charges when the roisterers were apprehended by the police. Pleading, that is, to those who believe that it is more than a lucky break that has put Rudy Valle close to the top of his profession.

In Columbus new legislation is being offered literally by wheelbarrow loads. Perhaps it is a good thing after all that the legislature has to rush through its business. If it had more time it might pass twice as much legislation. But, then, it would take just that much more time to repeal it all, so there wouldn't be a great deal of difference.

ence. Eventually, the lawmakers will get aroused to the tax issue—which is the only thing of interest to everyone. How about an extra session of the legislature, or doesn't the prospect frighten anyone?

A Texas cowboy rode a bull from his home town, Brownsville, to New York City in 254 days. Well, if a fellow didn't have anything else to do, owned a bull and a lot of patience, there would be worse ways to spend eight and a half months. By the time he rides the bull back maybe the depression will be over.

The French government has fallen again after a few weeks of existence. Clever folks there French. They don't tolerate monotony for an instant. The next government will be the 86th in the last half century.

What Others Say

THE DOLE AMENDMENT

The persistence with which Senator Robinson is attempting to get congress to vote $25,000,000 for feeding destitute farmers would be more persuasive if there were not on record a statement by the governor of Arkansas that all the distress existing in that state can be taken care of by the state itself, with the assistance of the American Red Cross. This admission by the governor of his own state strongly suggests that Senator Robinson is overplaying conditions, with a possible eye to future political reward. Several of his colleagues seem to be doing the same thing. The only difference between the reprehensibility of their conduct and that of Senator Robinson is in degree. They did not pledge themselves, as the Democratic leader in the senate pledged himself, to cooperate with the administration in obtaining the enactment of its relief measures.

The principle involved in this effort to force the federal government to assume responsibility for easing the consequences of last year's drought is full of vicious potentialities. The government can not discriminate between classes or occupations. Consequently if it feeds hungry farmers it must feed hungry industrial workers. When it starts doing that it will let itself in for more than any nation can successfully handle; for experience shows that the dole is self-perpetuating and self-enlarging. Waste and extravagance increase with the distance between legislators and their constituents. A good many of the appropriations voted in Washington would not be voted by state legislatures, which are nearer the taxpayers and therefore more sensible to their opinion.

All the relief work that it is necessary for the nation, as a whole, to do can best be done by the American Red Cross, with funds voluntarily subscribed. Allowing the Red Cross to do it, without aid or hindrance by congress, will be wise in every way. The work will be done efficiently and economically. The country will not set a precedent for a role. The American Red Cross, which is suffering from the senate's action, will be sustained and strengthened for future emergencies. The states where relief work is needed will be encouraged to help themselves. They won't do that if they feel that they can always shift the burden to other shoulders. The possible consequences of asking congress to do what can be so much better done through the American Red Cross are so appalling that it is astonishing to find in Washington men capable of trying to inflict these consequences on the country by capitalizing public sympathy and threatening to force a special session.—Detroit Free Press.

CULT IS DIVIDED IN SEARCH FOR PURNELL'S GOLD

The cult of the House of David at Benton Harbor, Mich., over which bearded old "King Ben" Purnell (left) exercised such autocratic sway, is in a state of civil war as factions led by H. T. Dewhirst (second), the chosen successor of the late Purnell, and Purnell's widow, "Queen Mary" Purnell (extreme right) hunt for the treasure of about $600,000 the old ruler secured. The existence of this money was disclosed by Mrs. Ada Rees Schneider (inset), a member of the colony who is reported to have settled her claim against the cult for services rendered to Purnell for $25,000. Mrs. Schneider said that papers that gave the key to the hiding place had been destroyed. Buildings of the colony at Benton Harbor are shown in the layout.

O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—I don't know what happened, but I awakened with an electric start. And for what seemed an age remained tense, peering into the blackness. My scalp stretched to the tautness of a snare drum's head. Somewhere in the void was a presence! As a sheer bluff I whispered harshly to my wife: "Hand me the revolver!" And she spoiled everything by drawing sleepily: "What revolver? Go to sleep." Any second I expected a clasp of hairy paws to reach out, grasp my throat and throttle the daylight out of me. I croke so easily.

Anyone with my kind of an Adam's Apple does. The wildest thoughts raced through my head. Why was I always smart cracking about the cowardice of gunmen? or occupations. Consequently if it feeds hungry farmers it must feed hungry industrial workers. When it starts doing that it will let itself in for more than any nation can successfully handle; for experience shows that the dole is self-perpetuating and self-enlarging. Waste and extravagance increase with the distance between legislators and their constituents. A good many of the appropriations voted in Washington would not be voted by state legislatures, which are nearer the taxpayers and therefore more sensible to their opinion.

All the relief work that it is necessary for the nation, as a whole, to do can best be done by the American Red Cross, with funds voluntarily subscribed. Allowing the Red Cross to do it, without aid or hindrance by congress, will be wise in every way. The work will be done efficiently and economically. The country will not set a precedent for a role. The American Red Cross, which is suffering from the senate's action, will be sustained and strengthened for future emergencies. The states where relief work is needed will be encouraged to help themselves. They won't do that if they feel that they can always shift the burden to other shoulders. The possible consequences of asking congress to do what can be so much better done through the American Red Cross are so appalling that it is astonishing to find in Washington men capable of trying to inflict these consequences on the country by capitalizing public sympathy and threatening to force a special session.—Detroit Free Press.

Another window curtain fluttered in the hall. Heavens, that would be three! Probably there were already one or two waiting in closets. It occurred to me I remembered seeing the lid on a wicker clothes basket move earlier in the evening. That would be still another!

Wouldn't it be funny if the clothes basket one was found suffocated? Likely it was hysteria, but I almost chuckled. All the dogs snailly cast off blankets were in there. Also other discarded and perhaps fragrant what nots.

But what do I do? Cautiously I raised myself to a sitting position, slowly reached out my hand toward the night table, snapped on the light and squeaked in a surprising falsetto: "What are you doing there?" My wife sat up blinking to inquire: "In Heaven's name what now? Are you losing your mind?" I put my fingers to my lips and shook my head fiercely. Instead of screaming she continued: "You look like a chunk of white chalk!" And just about then the dead dog aroused by the flare of light stretched, hopped out of his basket and onto the bed with a rubber ball in his mouth. With a house full of burglars, that feel would want to play.

I began to try to whisper another warning to my wife. Poor soul, she didn't know yet what it was all about. She gave me a withering look and flopped back on a pillow. If I could only reach the outside hall and summon the elevator man! I made the effort walking stiffly as though expecting a crack on the crotch any second. Going through the hall I announced: "It's no use boys. I've turned in the burglar alarm. The police will be here any minute." And as a bright afterthought added: "If you hurry you might get away!" Still nothing happened. And what a big help he had been too!—joined us with his rubber ball and all set for a "frankie" that way around this house anytime I grow serious everybody begins to skylark. It wouldn't have surprised me if the cook turned on the graphophone at 4 in the morning.

Well, anyway, there wasn't a burglar. I may have been nightmare, hallucination or plain nutcase. But they'd better leave me alone. All day I've been in one of those austere quiet moods. Last time I was like this I slammed a copy spike at a city editor. My wife rubs it in by talking to the dogs in the next room. Such as: "Go hunt the bird, had burglars!" And I'm not so phased as she thinks. I often set up and put on my trousers backward this way.

The Stars Say

For Sunday, January 25

Sunday's horoscope holds promise of unusual liveliness in domestic, social, cultural or affectional matters, rather than in week-day activities. These latter are under a baneful ray, and should be postponed until more propitious planetary sway. There may be some sudden visitation, not quite desirable.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year in which their personal affairs may thrive and bring compensations, but business conditions are under a sign of adversity, setback and possible disruption. A sudden and disintegrating visitation is possible, finances are hazardous, and disappointments and delays are among the probabilities. Also beware treachery and subtlety. A child born on this day should be gracious, socially accomplished and popular, but it may encounter many sudden difficulties in life, with many obstacles to surmount. It may have a stirring and adventurous career.

For Monday, January 26

Monday's astrological forecast is under the strong influence of the mysterious and marvelous Neptune, both by solar and lunar aspect. This configuration effects peculiar and chaotic situations, difficult to unravel, but favors dealings of a secret or strategic nature and encourages negotiations with secret societies, large corporations or combines and affairs of intrigue or diplomacy.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of the peculiarly fathomable and intriguing. Their affairs will prosper through secret agreements or conspiracy, and negotiation with large corporations, mergers and secret bodies should thrive. New projects in this connection should flourish. A child born on this day may be eccentric, peculiar, given to mysterious and secret activities. It may do well in strategic positions or with mergers, "rings," secret bodies or diplomacy.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

The Thyroid Gland

Today I want to tell you about a condition called "Hypothyroidism." You will recall that in a recent article I told about "Hyperthyroidism," a disease commonly known as "Goiter." Hypothyroidism differs from hyperthyroidism, in that in the former there is a deficiency in the thyroid secretions. The prefix "hypo" refers to a decrease and "hyper" to an increase. When we speak of hyperthyroidism, we simply mean that there is an increase in the secretions of the thyroid gland. This increase usually manifests itself by enlargement of the thyroid gland, which you will recall is located in the front of the neck, adjoining the Adam's apple. There is loss of weight, rapid pulse, marked sweating and trembling of the hands. These various symptoms are thought to be due to an increase in the secretions of the thyroid gland.

In hypothyroidism we have a different picture. Persons with hypothyroidism are not really ill. They simply feel below par. They know something is wrong, for they do not feel as well as they should. Excessive weariness and fatigue following any exertion are two chief complaints, in spite of rest and vacation. The weariness and fatigue return. There is a loss of the "pep" these individuals formerly possessed. Other signs are confusing, but they must be considered. There may be underweight or overweight. It is not uncommon to observe constipation, susceptibility to cold, and infections, vague aches and pains, and at times a general feeling of soreness in the abdomen. This condition of hypothyroidism is often baffling, and can only be accurately determined by means of a special test. By its application the doctor can determine whether our bodies are working at a slow or rapid rate. To borrow terms from our golfing friends, it will be determined whether we are below par, above par or at par.

In hypothyroidism the score is above par. In the condition that I am talking about today, hypothyroidism it is below par. No diagnosis of hypothyroidism can be made unless there is definitely demonstrated what the doctors call a lowered "basal metabolic rate." Your physician will be happy to enlighten you about this fascinating and important subject. If he thinks it necessary he will advise this test for you.

These conditions of hypothyroidism are of particular importance for those who live in the Great Lakes Basin. In this region diseases of the thyroid gland are most common. The disease under discussion rapidly responds to treatment, and rarely if ever, requires operation. It should not be overlooked, because if neglected it does damage to the body.

MRS. P. BELL, Q.—How can I gain weight?

A.—Proper dieting and deep breathing are the secret. You should eat nourishing foods and have plenty of sleep and rest.

A READER, Q.—What can be done for bags or puffs under the eyes?

A.—Constipation, indigestion, lack of sleep or a heart or kidney condition may be responsible. It would be advisable to consult your physician for an examination.

THANK YOU (M. M.), Q.—What should a girl weight who is 18 years old and 5 ft. 7 ins. tall?

A.—Can tuberculosis be contracted through kissing on the mouth?

A.—For her age and height she should weigh about 134 pounds. When I give you these figures, you will understand I am speaking about the average person. If these show you are a few pounds under or a few pounds above this weight you must not feel that fact has any particular significance. The figures, as I have said, indicate merely the average weight as discovered by the examinations of a large number of persons.

2.—Yes.

PLEASE, Q.—What is somnambulism?

2.—What can you tell me about gout?

3.—Do you advise treatment for styes?

A.—The scientific name for sleepwalking is somnambulism.

2.—Gout is a disease associated with rich food—overeating, overindulging in sweet wines and malt beverages—and especially because the tendency to gout is inherited the same as riches—it is called a rich man's ailment. It is probably due to an excessive amount of uric acid in the blood.

3.—Yes. For full particulars send a self addressed stamped envelope, and repeat your question.

Permanency of athletic relationship between Salem and East Liverpool appeared assured as the two schools met for their second series of contests of the current season last night. Salem, winning two out of three games during the evening, proved its superiority over the Ceramic Citizens never once during the struggle seriously threatened the Stomenen and trailed the invading Quaker machine throughout. Salem's lead ranged from four points to ten at various intervals. Liverpool never even so much as advancing to tie the score.

A Salem High team that was all that the word team is meant to imply in basketball represented the Red and Black in this decisive victory over its ancient Columbiana county rival. Playing like a smooth-working machine, the Quakers flashed brilliant tactics that are destined to rank the team high in district cage competition this year.

The victory of the varsity quintet earned Salem High a five-to-one edge in decisions for the year's rivalry between the two schools. The only defeat sustained by a Quaker cage team in competition with East Liverpool came in the semi-final of last night's entertainment. Coach Esther Peterson's lassies losing by a 37-23 score.

Reeves Win Easily
Salem reserves came through with their ninth consecutive victory of the season against the Pottery second-string crew in the first preliminary. The score was 36-20, the Quaker lads emerging victorious by an even more decisive margin than did their varsity team.

Two field goals by William Smith gave Salem a 4-0 lead in the first three minutes of play in the main contest. Smith's first score coming on a great play when he followed Ed Beck's short shot and scooped the leather through the hoop with one hand. McNutt scored from the field for the Pottery but Norman Early, Paul Sartick and Tom French flashed through with a field goal each to give the visitors a 10-2 lead.

Foul shots by Kelley and Snape and another field goal by McNutt made the score 10-6 when the period ended. Salem leading.

Liverpool Gains
Salem, lapsing into temporarily inaccurate shooting from short distances, was able to connect for only four points in the second period while the Ceramics chalked up five to make the count at the half 14-10.

Barney's first year in Pittsburgh was 1900. He had been with Louisville and was elected president then that city's franchise in the National League was transferred to Pittsburgh.

Although a quiet man, Dreyfuss has his feelings about short fences, cheap home runs, and night baseball. Forbes Field, "Barney's own ball lot, is one of the hardest in the major leagues in which to get a home run. He doesn't like the 'fluke' homers and can't see night ball."

Incidentally, Dreyfuss never has allowed billboard advertising in Forbes Field—except once. During the war, advertisements for War Savings Stamps were plastered about the Oakland park. He won't allow boxing shows to be held inside the park but does permit college football games.

Since he came here the Pirates have won their share of pennants. They were National League champions in 1903, 1909, 1925 and 1927.

"Of course, the Pirates are going to be up there this year," Barney declares.

Potters Outclassed In Battle On Home Court; Quaker Reserves Win

Outclassed from start to finish, East Liverpool High lost its second consecutive basketball contest of the 1930-31 season to the powerful Quaker aggregation of Salem High, sustaining defeat by a 34-28 margin on the Pottery team's home gymnasium Friday night.

Termed pre-game favorites by virtue of the home-floor advantage, the Ceramic Citizens never once during the struggle seriously threatened the Stomenen and trailed the invading Quaker machine throughout. Salem's lead ranged from four points to ten at various intervals. Liverpool never even so much as advancing to tie the score.

SALEM LASSIES MEET DEFEAT AT EAST LIVERPOOL

Last Period Rally Gives Pottery Maidens Win In Stiff Battle

Salem High lassies sustained their second defeat of the season in Columbiana county league competition Friday night, losing a 37-23 decision to East Liverpool High maidens in a preliminary battle at Liverpool Friday night.

The game was a hard-fought and almost evenly played affair for three periods, the Pottery lassies amassing 13 points in the final session to overwhelm the Peterson-coached sextet by a decisive margin of points. It was the second meeting of the two teams this season, the Quaker maidens winning the first by a 20-8 score.

The lead switched back and forth in the first half with East Liverpool holding a slight edge. The score at the end of the first quarter was 6-5 and at the half 14-11, the Pottery leading in each case. At the start of the fourth a disastrous chapter for the Red and Black, the count stood at 23-19. Wooley and Mackey starred for the winners with R. Jones, Ward and Kaercher heading Salem's attack.

LISBON TRIMMED AT COLUMBIANA

County Seat Outfit Loses By 32-17 Score; Lisbon Girls Win, 21-18

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 24.—Columbiana High cagers pulled a surprise here last night, coming back in the second half to overwhelm Lisbon's touted quintet, 32-17.

Columbiana used its second-stringers the greater part of the first half then inserted the regular varsity which completely outclassed the visitors. Metz, scoring 18 points, was the big star.

Lisbon girls defeated Columbiana maidens, 21-18 in a closely fought preliminary. Inability to score foul goals proved disastrous to the losers who registered only six out of 24 attempts from the free stripe.

MOUNTMEN LOSE CLOSE CONTEST TO LUTHERANS

Bob Cope Stars In Defeat For Alliance College; Ends Win Streak

ALLIANCE, O., Jan. 24.—A strong finish enabled Wittenberg's crack basketball team to beat Mount Union, co-leader of the Ohio conference, 34 to 33, here Friday night.

It was the Lutheran 11th straight victory and Mount Union's first cage defeat of the season. Wittenberg was trailing at the half, 18 to 13, after the Mountmen had piled up a 10-point lead at the start of the game. Wittenberg came back strong in the last half and the game was decided in the last minute.

Kreeger, forward, led Wittenberg's attack with 18 points. Robert Cope was outstanding for Mount Union, scoring nine points. Summary:

Class A Fives Clash Here Tonight; School Varsity Meets Dover

With the Salem High varsity battling Dover in a Big Ten district league cage duel at Dover, this city's basketball fandom will be afforded its first week-end sandlot entertainment of the current court season, four games, two of them involving leading Class A teams against invading aggregations of note, being scheduled at the Memorial building gymnasium tonight.

Salem Saxons, recognized as Salem's outstanding independent aggregation, and the R. E. Grove Electric company quintet, now in second place in the local Class A circuit, and a team which looms as the main contender for the second half city championship here, meet teams from Youngstown and Akron, respectively, in main contests. The Saxons oppose the Sigma club of Youngstown while The Electric's battle the strong Y. M. C. league champions of the Rubber City, the Akron North Hill Church of Christ outfit.

Class B Teams Play
Salem Class B quintets, among them the Emmanuel Lutheran church Cadets and the First Methodist church team, leaders in the ten-cornered fight for junior league honors here, are slated for preliminaries.

The Sigma club this week easily defeated the Youngstown Butcher Bakers, a team which gave the Saxons plenty of fight here two weeks ago. The Sigmas claim Mahoning Valley Class A titular honors and have yet to meet an aggregation to oppose this claim.

Composed of Steve Minehart, "Dusty" Rhodes, Haldeman, Fitzgerald, Hartman, Rollins, Welsh and Johnson, the majority of them ex-high or former college floor stars, the Sigmas boast a team which may impose on the Saxons the latter's first defeat of the season.

The Saxons will have their strongest lineup available and will start Hill and Scullion at forwards; Flip at center, and Ted Schwartzoff and Les Older at guards.

Groves Challenge lineup
Because several of the Grovemans will play with the Saxons, the former will be forced to effect several changes in its lineup. Paul Fogg, Evan Jenkins, Bruce Cope, Clyde Miller and other Class A stars being expected to perform against the Akronites. This game will be played as the semi-final.

Akron will bring a team composed entirely of former North High stars, and won the right to represent their city in district. Y. M. C. A. titular competition for two consecutive years. The team claims 12 victories in 15 games against the Akron district's leading teams.

The First Baptist church team meets the Salem City company in the first preliminary. J. M. Kelley announced.

FARM BUREAU'S AIDS APPOINTED

Several Committee Members From Salem Listed; J. C. Pottoff Is President

Several persons from the Salem rural districts are included on the committees of the Columbiana County Farm bureau, which have been announced by the president, J. C. Pottoff, who lives near Salem. Here are the committees:

Finance and budget—E. Y. Gamble, W. G. Edgerton, C. F. Minding, W. J. Hayes and Ella Satterthwaite. Appropriation—extension work financing—C. J. Halverson, Barnett Graham, Mrs. L. R. Frederick, Mrs. H. C. Waddell and Mrs. J. C. Pottoff.

Organization and membership—Mrs. Mabel Satterthwaite, E. H. Myers, Fred Schaenl, L. E. Immel, Carl Bowman. County meetings and fair—R. W. Boyd, Mr. Rowley, N. W. Ingles, Mrs. E. J. Bailey, Mrs. Harley Ketch, Taxation and public affairs—S. N. Van Blaricom, L. H. Baker, C. F. Bough, E. D. Emerick, John Hawkins.

Extension (advisors to county agents)—O. F. Sidwell, Barnett Graham, Edgar Thomas, W. S. Leeper, P. H. Vaughn, Mrs. E. D. Emerick, Mrs. Howard Thompson, Mrs. R. R. Barber, Mrs. Harry Miller.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—The firm of Armour & Company, packers, today was headed by T. George Lee, a former stenographer, whose election to the presidency was followed almost immediately by the resignation of Philip D. Armour, III, first vice president and member of the company's board of directors.

Thus executive control of Armour & Company, which for 63 years has had some member of the famous family in an official position, passed completely into the hands of others. The third Philip is a grandson of "Old P. D." Armour, the founder. Armour's withdrawal as an executive was the last resignation among members of the Armour family within the past few years. Lester Armour, also a grandson of the founder, resigned as a vice president in March, 1929, and Laurence H. Armour resigned as a vice president in 1925. Laurence and A. Watson Armour, however, remain as directors.

ALLIANCE, Jan. 24.—Police today were in possession of a 100-gallon still, 2,000 gallons of mash and alleged liquor seized in a raid on John Yost's grocery on the Stark-Mahoning county line. Yost and John Sherban were arrested.

THE CHURCH OF OUR SAVIOUR, 870 E. State St. Rev. Christian A. Roth, rector. Services Sunday, Jan. 25, being the conversion of St. Paul, the Apostle and the Third Sunday after Epiphany.

Celebration of the Holy Communion, 7:30. Morning prayer and sermon, 11. There is a fascination in the story of St. Paul's conversion. Evidently the Holy Spirit would have us study it, for we have three accounts of the wonderful experience, one given by St. Luke, a history of the actual experience, and two by St. Paul himself. He spoke of it as a "heavenly vision" and such indeed it was. The glorified Christ claimed him as a messenger to preach the gospel to the Gentiles. So also the heavenly visions came to us, in a fashion less graphic perhaps, but none the less real. Our Christ speaks to us when we are in doubt, when we complain, when we lose heart, and He cries: "My child, why persecutest thou Me by these doubts and fears when thou knowest I am thy friend and redeemer?" St. Paul's vision led him to the Cross of Christ, for He who appeared to Him on the Damascus way was the glorified Jesus who died for human sin and rose from the dead for our justification before God. And because He gloried in the Cross He gloried in his own sufferings resulting from his loving ministry, because they drew him nearer to his divine master. We must enter our praise and glory in the cross if we are to be true believers. "He died for me," cries the Christian, and then he worships and goes out to serve in His Master's name. At every communion service we remember Christ's death upon the cross. Every Friday is a Good Friday, sacred to the memory of the Christ who died. And blessed indeed is he who bears his own cross after Christ.

HOLY TRINITY ENGLISH LUTHERAN

Rev. George D. Keister, pastor. All services held at the Memorial building on East State St.

The Sunday of the Transfiguration of our Lord. Sunday school 9:45. H. E. Smith, superintendent.

"Temptation is real. The pull of and attraction to evil is fact, not fiction. The author of all temptation is the devil. He cannot be ruled out of the life of our time. He has existed since the rebellion of the angels in heaven. Our Lord Jesus Christ faced the most powerful of Satan's forces in His temptation. His triumphant victory is an encouragement to the tempted of all time. Evil need not be allowed to reign over us. Temptations beset us, our castles of godly resolutions. We shall very likely be conquered without God's help."

Morning worship, 11. Sermon: "The Voice of God."

Speech makes possible communication between personalities. It is a product of the voice. That God has permitted us to talk is cause to be grateful to Him. God has spoken through His word, the Holy Scriptures. This record tells us that on some occasions the voice of God has been heard. Only great and important words have come from Him. When Jesus was transfigured, His work and life were commended by the voice from heaven. God does speak to His children. Even though invisible, yet through the still small voice, we can hear from Him.

The Sunday evening topic is, "Porto Rico for Christ." Mary Eckenroth is the leader.

The Lydia Bible class meets Monday evening at the pastor's home on South Union Ave. Mrs. Merle Halverson and Mrs. Homer Halverson are the hostesses.

The Jessie Thomas circle meets Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ivan McComb in Alliance. A covered supper will be served.

The church council and building committee will meet Friday evening at the new church.

Catechism class meets Saturday at 9 a. m.

Celebration of the Holy Communion, 7:30. Morning prayer and sermon, 11. There is a fascination in the story of St. Paul's conversion. Evidently the Holy Spirit would have us study it, for we have three accounts of the wonderful experience, one given by St. Luke, a history of the actual experience, and two by St. Paul himself. He spoke of it as a "heavenly vision" and such indeed it was. The glorified Christ claimed him as a messenger to preach the gospel to the Gentiles. So also the heavenly visions came to us, in a fashion less graphic perhaps, but none the less real. Our Christ speaks to us when we are in doubt, when we complain, when we lose heart, and He cries: "My child, why persecutest thou Me by these doubts and fears when thou knowest I am thy friend and redeemer?" St. Paul's vision led him to the Cross of Christ, for He who appeared to Him on the Damascus way was the glorified Jesus who died for human sin and rose from the dead for our justification before God. And because He gloried in the Cross He gloried in his own sufferings resulting from his loving ministry, because they drew him nearer to his divine master. We must enter our praise and glory in the cross if we are to be true believers. "He died for me," cries the Christian, and then he worships and goes out to serve in His Master's name. At every communion service we remember Christ's death upon the cross. Every Friday is a Good Friday, sacred to the memory of the Christ who died. And blessed indeed is he who bears his own cross after Christ.

TODAY (Continued From Page 1.) tances hitherto unattainable. In fact all around the earth at the equator, although that will never be necessary or useful.

This new device, a glass bulb held in one hand representing the equivalent of 10,000 horsepower, would be the place of a huge rotary converter that would fill two freight cars.

The new invention is too complicated for the lay mind, even with the admirably clear explanation of C. V. Stone, General Electric engineer.

It may make available power supplies now going to waste, for instance, a giant cataract in Brazil, more powerful than Niagara. It may harness far away African cataracts to run machinery in those new African copper mines. Something more for American copper men to think about.

Even more important, this might be the beginning of power transmission without wires, making it possible for airplanes to take up energy from the earth, as an electric engine takes it from a third rail, making fuel tanks unnecessary.

The nation is indebted to its great industrial corporation for their research work, adding billions to the national wealth.

Man does these wonderful things with electricity, not knowing what electricity is, and that amazes him. He does not know the nature of the human mind that performs these miracles, which is even more amazing.

COURT NEWS Cited For Contempt Wilson J. Brantingham, plaintiff in a divorce action filed against his wife, Alice C. Brantingham, July 16, last, has been cited for contempt, according to a journal entry approved by Judge W. F. Lones.

He was previously ordered to pay his wife $20 monthly alimony, and the court has been informed that he has been in default since Nov. 15 last.

Judgment For Plaintiff There was a trial to the court in the case of the Dollar Savings Bank Co., of East Liverpool against W. L. Talbot and Frank Litten, and on the pleadings, judgment has been entered in favor of the plaintiff for $6,000 and interest at six per cent from July 1, 1929.

The court has found the defendants are joint makers of the note and the request of Talbot to be notified as surety is desired. Exceptions in this case have been entered by Talbot.

FARM NOTES

Items of Interest Taken from Ohio Rural Districts

Ferguson to Speak

C. M. Ferguson, poultry extension specialist, Ohio State university, will be the speaker at a meeting of Mahoning county's poultry record keepers in the rooms above the Mahoning County Farm Bureau office, at 1 p. m. Tuesday, January 27.

The demonstration farm records which have been summarized by the university will be the basis of the discussion. Various problems of poultry management will be included in the discussion. All demonstration and calendar farm record keepers of 1930 and 1931 have been invited to attend the meeting.

Study Health

Mahoning county women plan to study a health and personal appearance program. Miss Wanda Orzulka, health specialist from Ohio State university, will discuss the work. Leaders from several of the townships will meet for the first training lesson of the season at 10 a. m. Tuesday, January 27 in the county extension office.

Plans Poultry Conference

C. M. Ferguson, poultry extension specialist of Ohio State university, will be at the Mahoning county extension office on Tuesday, January 27, to confer with poultrymen concerning special problems which have arisen in their flocks. Any poultryman who desires to confer with Mr. Ferguson, should call at the extension office during these hours.

Poultrymen To Meet

Mahoning county poultrymen who are interested in the formation of a Poultry Improvement association will meet at the county extension office in the old Bank building at Canfield at 8 p. m. Tuesday, January 27.

The meeting will be addressed by C. M. Ferguson. All Mahoning county poultrymen who are interested in this type of organization are invited to attend.

Will Confer With Record Keepers

Guy W. Miller, farm management specialist of Ohio State university, will be at the county extension office on Wednesday, January 28, to assist farm account keepers and potato cost account record keepers in completing their records for the year and to help new record keepers to start their accounts for the year.

Martin On Program

Ira Martin, one of Mahoning county's outstanding poultrymen, will be one of the speakers on the poultry program at the annual farmers' week at Ohio State university, February 2 to 6.

Mr. Martin is scheduled to be on the program, Wednesday, February 4, to discuss, "A Farmer Sells Poultry and Eggs Direct."

Mahoning county is represented each year at farmers' week by from 60 to 75 men and women.

Green Is Denied

Funds From State

COLUMBUS, Jan. 24.—Perry Green, former state director of agriculture, who was injured in an automobile accident which resulted fatally to Norman E. Shaw, of Cleveland, was denied workmen's compensation by the Ohio Industrial Commission on the ground that a member of the governor's cabinet is not an employee within the meaning of the law and so is not entitled to compensation. Shaw's death claim was allowed since at the time of his death he was employed as a field editor of the Ohio Farmer, Cleveland agricultural publication.

SEATTLE—An evening of merriment was changed to one of sorrow for Mrs. Elmer Church when she felt her husband begin to slump as they were dancing in a ballroom. As she looked at him, he slipped through her arms and fell dead. A heart attack caused his death.

YOUTHFUL GANG IS BROKEN UP

Responsible For Series Of Robberies, Authorities Claim

Dissension resulting from what one of its members charges as "unfair division of proceeds," today is reported by police to have resulted in breaking up of a gang of five Salem youths, allegedly responsible for a series of more than 15 petty crimes here.

Faces Burglary Count

James Cooper, 20, said by Thompson to have been the leader of the group, is being held by authorities on a burglary charge while others have been turned over to County Probation Officer J. H. McCready and will be made wards of the county juvenile court. The latter range in age from 14 to 17 years.

The burglary charge filed against Cooper, Thompson stated, is based on theft of $5 in cash a fountain pen and playing cards from the residence of C. M. Wilson, 1510 East State st., on January 5. Entry was also effected by the youngsters into other residences, little loot being obtained.

Enter School Building

Included in the places entered by the group, Thompson said, were the Fourth st. school building, the R. W. Hack company lumber office, and the residence of J. H. Campbell, 624 East Fifth st. Pencils and a small amount of cash were taken from the school while nothing but a large kitchen knife was stolen from the Campbell home, the youth is said to have stated in his confession.

WASHINGTONVILLE

The fortnightly club members were entertained on Thursday evening in the home of Miss Myrtle Baker. Special guests were Mrs. Clarence Baker of Warren; Mrs. George Firth, Mrs. Frank Stouffer, Mrs. J. A. Stouffer and daughter Mae; Mrs. Grady and daughter, Washingtonville, and Mrs. Effie Steward of Salem. Contests were enjoyed with honors won by Mrs. L. J. Davis, Mrs. Ed Girard and Mrs. Glenn McNeel.

In two weeks the club will be entertained in the home of Mrs. L. J. Davis.

A daughter was born on Thursday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hinerman.

The Parent-Teacher association of the consolidated school district will hold its regular meeting on Monday evening, Jan. 26, at the north side building in Leetonia.

The good program, including numbers by pupils of the Washingtonville school and a reading demonstration by Miss Rauch and a class of first graders has been prepared. The attendance prize will be awarded to the room having the largest number of fathers.

About 34 friends and members of the Atkinson family gathered at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson on Thursday evening to help here celebrate her 79th birthday anniversary. A covered lunch was served. The honored guest received a number of gifts. Mr. and Mrs. William Atkinson and children were out of town guests.

Arrive in Hollywood

Friends here have received word of the safe arrival of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Callahan, at Hollywood, Cal. Mr. and Mrs. Callahan expect to visit in St. Petersburg, Fla. before returning to their home in Youngstown.

Mrs. Anna Hotchkiss of Moneysen, Pa., visited the fore part of the week with her sister, Mrs. Sam Rohrer, who is very ill.

Welcome lodge No. 247, K. of P., is making plans for a district meeting to be held in their hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 12.

DROUGHT RELIEF FUND

An appeal to the Citizens of Salem

DURING the last ten days demands on the American Red Cross for emergency assistance in the drought-stricken areas of 21 of our Middle Western and Southern States have trebled.

Reports coming in from hour to hour reveal untold suffering. Low food and water supplies have aggravated the winter hardships. Only now are the people of these stricken communities feeling acutely the dire results of last summer's torrid weather.

The American Red Cross is requesting a fund of $10,000,000 to aid these people in their emergency.

The work of relief in the entire territory will be in the hands of the Red Cross, but our available funds are far short of meeting the present situation. In his proclamation the President of the United States calls upon American citizens to help the Red Cross alleviate the suffering of these unfortunates.

The people of Salem are earnestly requested to respond to this call as they have responded to similar ones in the past. Already the number of sufferers amounts to hundreds of thousands and funds for their relief are needed immediately.

Since the Washington Headquarters of the Red Cross will bear the expenses of the administration, all contributions to the Drought Relief Fund will be spent for relief. The primary expenditure is for food, housing and medical attention. The impoverished condition of the sufferers in these 21 states leads to the constant menace of disease and epidemic. Assistance in giving relief in this emergency is imperative.

In accordance with these appeals, the Salem Chapter of the American Red Cross will receive contributions at its headquarters at the Memorial Building, also at the First National Bank, Farmers National Bank and Citizens Savings Bank

THREE TIED FOR FIRST PLACE IN CUE TITLE MEET

Johnny Layton Inflicts 50-2 Defeat Against St. Louis Entry

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Three challengers were deadlocked for first place with three straight victories each while the defending champion, Johnny Layton, of Sedalia, Mo., pressed closely behind as the struggle for the world's three cushion billiard crown entered the fourth round today.

Two Chicagoans, Allen Hall and Arthur Thurnblad, and the veteran Otto Reisel, of Philadelphia, champion in 1927, were the pacemakers. Layton, back with a record-breaking game after a setback in his first start Monday night, rested in fourth place with two victories and one defeat. The other four challengers, with from two to four losses each, appeared definitely out of the championship running.

Although Layton found himself looking at the backs of three leaders, he stood out as the one man to beat for the title he has held without interruption since 1928. In capturing his second straight game last night he crushed Dave Jacobs of St. Louis, 50 to 3, in 31 innings.

It was the most decisive defeat ever turned in at a national or world's three-cushion tournament and came within one of tying the record scored by Willie Hoppe in an American league game at New York in 1927, when he vanquished Harry Wakefield, 50 to 2.

SCHAAF DEFEATS J. J. BRADDOCK

(By Associated Press)
Small Crowd of 6,000 Witnesses
Battle At New York; Fans Yawn, Booh Battlers In Main Go

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Boxing in Madison Square Garden is experiencing the leanest indoor season in the Garden's history.

A crowd of 6,000 watched Ernie SchAAF, burly Boston heavyweight, outpoint Jimmy Braddock of Jersey City in a slow but last night and brought the unofficial average attendance for the last five Garden boxing shows to 17,500.

Certainly the SchAAF-Braddock match did little to boom trade for the boxing business. For eight rounds the spectators alternately yawned and booed as the rival heavyweights hauled and tugged at each other without doing much damage.

It was not until the ninth round that the boys opened up. SchAAF, who had exhibited great respect for the famed dynamite in Braddock's right hand, abandoned his cautious tactics and traded punches fearlessly. Braddock won that round but SchAAF belted him about the body unmercifully in the tenth and won a split decision.

The Associated Press score card showed seven rounds for SchAAF and three for Braddock.

SPOKANE, Wash.—A 14-year-old boy began a criminal career to obtain money to help his mother buy a washing machine, he told police. The boy, Robert Amell, and two companions were captured after their first robbery, which netted them $6 when they held up a confectionery store.

MEMPHIS—J. J. Carrigan, sea food dealer here, recently said there was no truth in the saying that eating fish and drinking milk will give you ptomaine poison. "My family have been doing it for 29 years," he said.

Doubled For Whiteman

Irvin Hollam, Salem grocery store manager, once enacted an outstanding role in motion pictures. Hollam, who closely resembles Paul Whiteman, doubled for the musician in one scene of "The King of Jazz." The script called for a more or less athletic nature on the part of Whiteman and Hollam was selected to enact this part of the production.

Hollam, prior to becoming manager of the Kroger store here, performed with a number of leading orchestras in various sections of the country. He plays the banjo and also is adept in various other forms of entertainment.

Whiteman is slightly heavier and in other respects the resemblance is striking. Hollam has often been mistaken for the musician on trains, in hotels and other public places.

Liners Damaged In Crash Near Amoy

(By Associated Press)

HONGKONG, Jan. 24.—The American liner President Hayes, while proceeding on its round-the-world voyage yesterday outside of Amoy, China, ran into the British steamer Kumsang, bound from Calcutta for Osaka. Both liners were damaged.

The Kumsang put into Amoy. Damage was said to be above water line. The President Hayes has reached Hongkong and the damage will be surveyed.

The President Hayes is a Dollar steamship line boat of 6,195 tons register. She left San Francisco Dec. 26 and Honolulu, Jan. 2, proceeding to Japan.

The Kumsang belongs to the Indo China Steam Navigation company and is of 3,341 tons net register.

Oratory Meet Won By Warren Youth

(By Associated Press)

WOOSTER, O., Jan. 24.—William Lavelle, Wooster college senior from Warren, is the winner of the annual Scovel peace oratorical contest at the college, according to an announcement by Dr. Delbert G. Lean, head of the oratorical department.

Lavelle recently received a $40 cash award for an oration which he used in the state peace contest last April, and which won second place in competition with 95 other orations.

Pledges Elks' Aid

MOVIES

An extraordinary film fare is promised at the State and Grand theaters, starting Monday with appearance of such famous screen productions as "Lightnin'", "Let's Go Native", "Passion Flower" and "Feet First".

Rogers in "Lightnin'"
Will Rogers, who daily writes a humorous article for The News and thousands of other American newspapers and who is recognized as one of America's greatest philosophical humorists, appears in "Lightnin'" his second all-talking picture. Kay Johnson, Kay Francis, Charles Bickford and Lewis Stone have lead roles in "Passion Flower," taken from Kathleen Norris' famous novel, and Harold Lloyd, begoggled comedian of note, makes his talking debut in "Feet First."

Oakie In Comedy
Not at all to be overlooked is another comedy attraction, "Let's Go Native" starring Jack Oakie, the screen's funniest "sap" and Jeanette MacDonald, in a wildly fantastic drama of a shipwrecked man and woman on an island in the South Seas.

The Royal will show Hoot Gibson in "Courtin' Wildcats," next Friday and Saturday.

Louise Dresser With Will
Will Rogers appears in "Lightnin'" at the Grand three days, starting Thursday. Louise Dresser, famous for her mother's characterizations, is Rogers' wife while the rest of the cast includes Joel McCrea, Helen Cohan, Sharon Lynn, Rex Bell, Jason Robards, Joyce Compton and a large array of beauties playing roles of would-be divorcees in courts at Reno.

Skeets Gallagher, who has appeared with Oakie in many other pictures and who more than once has stolen honors from so-called leading players, James Hall, Kay Francis and William Austin are seen with Oakie and Miss MacDonald in "Let's Go Native." Co-starring with Lloyd in "Feet First" is Barbara Kent, while supporting roles are given Alec Francis, Noah Young, Lillian Leighton and Robert McWade.

"Feet First" shows Lloyd as a show salesman who has the ambition to become a power in a great chain store organization he works for. His efforts at masquerading as a member of the idle rich fraternity in order to gain the love of a wealthy lass who turns out poor like himself, bring him into thrilling and humorous adventures. "Passion Flower" is the interesting account of a woman who, failing to find happiness in her own "money marriage," attempts to break up the domestic tranquility of her cousin who has thrown wealth overboard to marry her father's chauffeur.

19 MORE STATE JOBS ABOLISHED

Reduce State Library Appropriations; Other Cuts Made

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 24.—Nineteen more state jobs have been eliminated by Governor George White through reduced appropriations for the state library and the abolishing of three jobs in the finance director's department, and the highway department.

Finance Director Howard L. Bevis called for a reduction in the library budget and it was slashed from $894,086, as prepared by the outgoing administration, to $182,354.

Sixteen state library jobs were abolished and the payroll was reduced from $71,821 to $52,390.

The other jobs eliminated are those of chauffeur to the finance director, who received $1,440 a year, an office assistant in the finance department, receiving $1,600 a year and the director of publicity in the highway department.

Highway Director O. W. Merrell announced that a number of inspectors and assistants in the highway department also are to be abolished.

A few days ago the governor started the payroll slashing by eliminating six positions in the department of commerce and welfare at a saving of more than $11,000.

Pay Rate Is Based On New Nose Count

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 24.—Attorney General Gilbert Bettman has ruled that county officials in Ohio whose salaries are based upon population and who were elected to office last November must be paid on the basis of the 1930 census.
